Tanya Stolz is feeling sad.
Yesterday at 9:11 PM - (3)
I'm sorry to have learned that a friends husband (he claims her mother & sister also do this) takes her phone from her claiming "she's ill and doesn't know what she's doing or saying". She told me a long time ago that she has MS. I have many many texts with very coherent conversations. This is my friend who would confide in me, asking me not to share her messages. Dear friend, I told you-only to the courts if asked for your safety or mine. That time came. Really? Is it maybe he doesn't like what she is telling me and doesn't like what's being revealed, especially when there is supporting evidence. She also told me that him, his sister, her son & daughter in law had a phone conversation where her husband & his sister are trying to get her committed but her son & DIL didn't agree. WTH?! Now that he has seen a message between us he is trying to portray her as unstable. She certainly wasn't unstable at the time she was texting me! I hope she is doing well and that this is just one more thing he has fabricated.
Prayers for her & her kids O..

There are FIVE vehicles on my street of vehicles that have not moved in 2-3 months, cob webs and all! I'm failing my community as I'm not reporting these violations to code enforcement, which we technically don't have due to budget cuts. Thus our Chief of Police and our City Manager have to pick up the slack. Sorry guys to increase your work load but now I need to start reporting additional offenders & neighbors, that continually go unnoticed.
